THINKTAYLOR

The Midnight Riders are playing for Think Taylor.org, a foundation started by former Revs superstar Taylor Twellman. He is working to bring more awareness to head injuries in sports, such as the one that cut his career short.

Revolutionsoccer.net/content/charitable-foundation

We are also playing for the Revs Charitable Foundation, because hey... we're playing a match on Gillette Stadium! It's our way of saying thanks for that.

Fisherhouse.org

The Rebellion will be playing to support a few great causes, first and foremost is the Fisher House which is a charity supporting our nation's wounded warriors by providing military families a "home away from home" in order to be close to a loved one during hospitalization for an illness and injury. Families of our recovering wounded have to pay out of pocket to visit and be close with their loved one during their recovery and rehabilitation and Fisher House provides a means to offset that cost by providing housing near medical facilities. With many Iraq and Afghanistan veterans in the ranks of the Rebellion it's a cause close to home. We aim to support those who protect us and allow us to enjoy our soccer obsession in peace and safety.

Littlefeet.com

Secondly, we are playing for Little Feet, who provide soccer balls to children in need the world over. It's pretty simple, you buy a Little Feet branded ball and for every ball you buy they donate one to an area in need!

Just think that you are helping possibly give the next Messi his gateway into the beautiful game.
